

Managed Resource Fund (Voucher Scheme)

Overview

This voucher system is designed for organisations needing the flexibility that a fixed term support contract sometimes cannot provide.

Vouchers may typically suit clients who require infrequent assistance, easier budgeting, and want to avoid emergency call-out charges. With a clear understanding of the cost of support from the offset, there are no hidden costs or uncertainties of response times.

The key advantage of the vouchers is that they are interchangeable across technologies or type of service: they can even be used for procurement.
